Guidance to support the effective operation of local governing bodies in the Catholic Multi-Academy Trusts of the Diocese of Nottingham

2019/20

Diocesan Prayer for Schools

God our Loving Father,

Look with love and protection upon all of our schools in the Diocese of Nottingham.

Help us to ensure that everyone is helped to:

- Encounter your personal love for them;
- Discover and grow in their personal relationship with your Son, Jesus Christ, as his disciples;
- Be open to the inspiration and guidance of the Holy Spirit in their lives, so that, they may be helped to reach out to others with your love and practical support, especially to the poor and those most in need.

Do not allow us to stray from this vision, with Jesus, our Lord and Saviour, at its centre.

We thank you for all the gifts and talents within our diocesan family of schools.

May our Trusts work closely together for the benefit of our schools and may they grow stronger in their experience of communion and mission within our diocese.

Grant that all we seek to do may always be for the good of the children and young people within our schools.

We make this prayer through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Our Lady of Lourdes ... pray for us.

St Ralph Sherwin ... pray for us.

St Thérèse of Lisieux ... pray for us.

St Thomas Aquinas ... pray for us.

Welcome from Bishop Patrick McKinney

I am delighted to welcome you to the second edition of this Local Governing Body Handbook which has been produced specifically to support local governors in their role.

The establishment of our Catholic Multi-Academy Trusts brings with it changes to the way in which our schools are governed with the ultimate responsibility for each Trust resting with the Board of Directors. However, alongside that remains the crucial role of local governing bodies in providing support and challenge to our school leaders over the areas of Catholic Life and academic standards; also acting as my representatives to ensure that the school is conducted as a Catholic school in every respect so that the children within it receive the very best Catholic education possible.

The purpose of this Handbook is to ensure that there is a consistency of approach to all matters relating to governance within our four Catholic Multi-Academy Trusts. In this way, each tier of the governance structure will be aware of their specific duties and responsibilities.

Whether you are an experienced governor or a governor taking up the role for the first time, I thank you for your commitment and your generosity in supporting Catholic education in the Diocese of Nottingham.

With my prayers and best wishes,

+ Patrick McKinney

Right Rev. Patrick McKinney
Bishop of Nottingham

I. The Diocese of Nottingham

The Diocese of Nottingham was established on 29 September 1850. It comprises the counties of Nottingham, Derby, Leicester, Lincoln and Rutland; except the district of Bassetlaw, Nottinghamshire and the area around Chesterfield, Derbyshire (given to create the Diocese of Hallam in 1980).

There are 87 schools in the Diocese of Nottingham; 69 primary, 15 secondary and 3 independent. The diocese has a strong tradition of providing good and outstanding Catholic education to some 30,000 children and young people. The Instrument of Government for diocesan schools states that they are part of the Catholic Church and are to be conducted as Catholic schools in accordance with Canon Law, the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church and the Trust Deed of the Diocese of Nottingham. At all times, our schools must serve as a witness to the Catholic faith in our Lord Jesus Christ.

The four Catholic Multi-Academy Trust (CMAT) names covering the following geographical areas of the Diocese of Nottingham are:

2. Catholic Education

Catholic schools offer a unique and distinctive education; they have the teachings of Christ and his Church at the very centre.

The mission of schools is to develop a sense of truth, of what is good and beautiful. And this occurs through a rich path made up of many ingredients.

(Pope Francis – Address to Italian School Teachers – 10 May 2014)

The Code of Canon Law defines the purpose of Catholic education:

Education must pay regard to the formation of the whole person, so that all may attain their eternal destiny and at the same time promote the common good of society. Children and young people are therefore to be cared for in such a way that their physical, moral and intellectual talents may develop in a harmonious manner, so that they may attain a greater sense of responsibility and the right use of freedom and be formed to take an active part in social life.

(Code of Canon Law - 795)

Catholic schools evangelise culture because they address the deepest questions about what it is to be human and live in society. They open pupils' minds to the transcendent dimension of life and the reality of God revealed in Jesus Christ. They teach a holistic understanding of the human person and society in which all are included so that humanity can flourish. The Catholic school enables each pupil to develop their God-given gifts in order to engage in building a better society which is characterised by justice, truth and love.

Christ is the foundation of the whole educational enterprise in a Catholic school.

(The Catholic School, 1977 - 34)

Catholic schools, which always strive to join their work of education with the explicit proclamation of the Gospel, are a most valuable resource for the evangelisation of culture.

(Pope Francis - Evangelii Gaudium, 2013 - 134)

The document Christ at the Centre cites four reasons why the Church provides Catholic schools:

- To assist in its mission of making Christ known to all people
- To assist parents, who are the primary educators of their children, in the education and religious formation of their children
- To be at the service of the local Church, the diocese, the parish and the Christian home
- To be of service to society

The core principles which underpin Catholic education are further exemplified in a document produced by the Diocese of Leeds in 2008 called, Schools of Discipleship and are reproduced below.

- Catholic schools have Christ at their heart
- Catholic schools are distinctive

- Catholic schools have a liturgical, sacramental and spiritual life
- Catholic schools are centres of excellence for Religious Education and the wider curriculum
- Catholic schools are collaborative
- Catholic schools are essential

The Catholic schools in our diocese are rich, diverse communities. In many cases, parents who may not be of the Catholic faith choose to send their children there. It is a great privilege for us to be able to offer this excellent education to those families which seek it and to continue to do so in the future.

Catholic education is not reserved to Catholics only but is open to all those who appreciate its qualified educational project.

(The Catholic School on the Threshold of the Third Millennium, 1997 – 16)

The Sacred Congregation for Catholic Education has produced a number of very informative documents on the distinctiveness of Catholic schools and the philosophy of Catholic education. Please consult the following website:

3. CMAT Governance Model

Each of the four Catholic Multi-Academy Trusts (CMATs) in the Diocese of Nottingham are single Trusts responsible for all of the schools within them. Each CMAT is the legal entity, responsible for standards and budgets in all the schools and is the employer of all staff working within the central team and all of the schools in the CMAT.

There are 3 layers to the governance and accountability structure in the CMAT: Members, Directors and Local Governors as illustrated in the structure chart below:

KEY

-  Safeguards the diocesan vision for Catholic Education
-  Formal Accountability
-  Updates on Progress
-  Monitors and scrutinises performance through support and challenge
-  Professional advice, in line with Scheme of Delegation
-  Provides advice and feedback

Members

The Members are akin to the shareholders of a company. They have ultimate control over the CMAT, with the ability to appoint/remove the Directors and the right to amend the CMAT's Articles of Association. Our Members are the Bishop of Nottingham, the Episcopal Vicar for Catholic Education, the Diocesan Financial Secretary and the four chairs of the CMAT Boards of Directors in the Diocese of Nottingham. The Members will be the same for all four of the Catholic MATs within the Diocese of Nottingham. The Members will hold the Directors of the CMAT to account ensuring that they deliver the Bishop's vision for the CMAT. The Members will be supported by the Nottingham Roman Catholic Diocesan Education Service (NRCDES) and will hold at least one annual meeting to assess the performance of the CMAT.

Directors

Directors are often known by the Department for Education as 'trustees', a term we do not use in order to avoid confusion with the already existing Diocesan Trustees.

The Directors are responsible for ensuring that the vision set for the Trust by the Bishop of Nottingham is delivered. They will also hold the CEO and the leadership of the Trust to account on standards, performance of the CMAT and financial probity. As charity trustees, they must ensure that they are complying with charity law requirements. CMATs are charitable companies and the Directors are company directors and must comply with company law requirements.

Each CMAT will have also one Member as a Director, thereby providing a link between the two layers of governance whilst ensuring that there is separation between Directors and Members for the purposes of achieving robust accountability.

Local Governors

The CMAT will have local governing bodies (LGBs). LGBs are a committee of the CMAT Board of Directors. Individuals who sit on LGBs are referred to as 'local governors'; the term referring to both foundation governors and elected parent governors. Local governors are not Directors of the CMAT. The Directors will delegate some governance functions to LGBs through a Scheme of Delegation.

The Scheme of Delegation for LGBs will be subject to an annual review between the CMAT and the LGB and will need to be approved by the Members. The Scheme of Delegation will make clear what functions the Directors have delegated to the LGB of each school.

A copy of the full Scheme of Delegation used by each of the CMATs can be found on the website of each CMAT.

4. Role and Responsibilities of the Local Governing Body (LGB)

The LGB has a key role to play in the governance and accountability framework in place in each of the CMATs. The LGB is a committee of the CMAT Board of Directors; it will understand how the school is being led and managed and is the 'eyes and ears' of the CMAT Board, monitoring how well the school is progressing.

The LGB is responsible to the Bishop of Nottingham for ensuring that the Catholic character of the school is preserved and that links between the local/parish community and the CMAT Board of Directors are developed.

The LGB is crucial to driving up standards by challenging and holding the leadership team in the school to account and as such, it has a key role in influencing the development of the school and ensuring that it meets the needs of the children. The LGB will oversee behaviour and attendance matters at the school and will also oversee the management of pupil disciplinary matters and admissions. The LGB also has an important role to play in the management of exclusions. LGBs statutorily have the responsibility for arranging panels of governors to review decisions to permanently exclude and must make arrangements for Independent Review Panels (IRP) if required. LGBs must therefore also ensure that governors have attended the training on exclusions and the functions of the IRP arranged by the CMAT. In addition, as exclusion review and IRP panels must be arranged within tight timeframes it is expected that governors will be prepared to sit on panels for other schools within the CMAT.

The LGB will be engaged with the management of complaints from parents and it is important therefore that the LGB ensures that governors have read the guidance on management of complaints and are familiar with the complaints procedure. The LGB will also support the CMAT on succession planning for leaders and on the appointment of key staff in the school.

Not only does the LGB have an important role in influencing decision making in the school, it will also help shape the future direction and progress of the CMAT by engaging with the CEO, Director(s) of Performance and Standards and other members of the CMAT executive team on the development of CMAT functions and services.

Alongside the Scheme of Delegation will sit a school development plan for each school which will also be subject to an annual review. This will involve the CEO, the CMAT Director(s) of Performance and Standards and the headteacher in determining what the improvement priorities are for the school for the next year, what actions will be taken to achieve the desired outcomes and how they will be monitored. Local governors will take ownership of ensuring that the actions set out in the school development plan are delivered. (It should be noted, that the Directors remain accountable and responsible for any functions delegated through the Scheme of Delegation).

The LGB therefore has the following responsibilities (please also see Appendix C):

- Ensuring that the school is conducted as a Catholic school, meeting the expectations set out for his schools by the Bishop of Nottingham including on the development of the Catholic Life of the school including facilitating diocesan canonical inspection
- Safeguarding and promoting the Catholic values of the school
- Supporting the CMAT with the appointment of senior leaders and other reserved posts
- Supporting the headteacher with the appointment of other staff
- Supporting effective governance at all levels of the CMAT
- Supporting the leadership team at the school and acting as a critical friend
- Supporting the CMAT in the development of succession planning of leadership within the school and the CMAT
- Maintaining a detailed understanding of the strengths and areas for development of the school
- Regularly monitoring the school development plan and in-year performance and progress data (where appropriate)
- Monitoring performance management in the school and supporting the performance management of the headteacher
- Monitoring the management of pupil behaviour, attendance, exclusions and admissions
- Monitoring the effectiveness of the deployment of resources at the school
- Developing the engagement with the local school and parish community(ies)

5. Composition of the Local Governing Body and Terms of Office

The composition of the local governing body is:

- A minimum of 4 foundation governors (there is no maximum)
- 2 elected parent governors

There is no other category of governor.

There must always be a majority of foundation governors present at any LGB meeting.

At specific times and where there is a clear need, the LGB may request that it is able to utilise 'Associate Members' to support on specific projects or issues where there is a need to temporarily augment the skills and experience of the LGB. The need for the Associate Member must be first approved by the CMAT Board of Directors and the NRCDES before they can commence their engagement with the school. Associate Members are not governors and, as such, do not have voting rights but they can attend all meetings as specified by the NRCDES/CMAT and can play a full part in discussions. It should also be noted that, in reality, there will be very few occasions where a vote would be necessary.

Headteachers will have a right to attend all meetings of the LGB. Other staff members can also be asked or invited to attend any or all meetings of the local governing body by the governing body or the headteacher to give professional input without being appointed as a governor. CMAT Directors may attend any meetings of the LGB and, if in attendance, will have voting rights. The Bishop of Nottingham (or his representative) shall also have the right to attend any meeting of any Trust or LGB; no item may be deemed confidential. If in attendance, the Bishop of Nottingham (or his representative) will have voting rights. The CEO (or a representative) may also attend a meeting – giving notice of their intention to attend and would not have voting rights.

As essentially, the local governing body is already a 'committee' of the Trust Board, there will be no other committees at local governing body level. The normal term of office for foundation and elected parent governors is 4 years. Foundation governors are limited to three consecutive four year terms of office unless the Bishop of Nottingham determines that there are exceptional circumstances to extend this. As foundation governors' terms of office end, there will be a discussion between the school, the CMAT and the NRCDES regarding replacements. Elected parent governors can be elected even if their child is due to leave the school before the end of their fourth year of office. Also, if at the end of their term of office, they still have a child at the school, they may stand for re-election for a further term of office.

Priests may serve for longer and are not required to re-apply at the end of their term of office. They are effectively 'ex officio' members of the local governing body. Priests are encouraged to serve as foundation governors but due to the pressures on them, some may determine that they would wish to serve as Associate Members in order to support the school specifically in its Catholic Life. If this is the case, they will inform the NRCDES and we will liaise with the CMAT and the school on whether a replacement foundation governor is required.

6. Recruitment, Appointment, Resignation and Removal

Full details of the process for the appointment, re-appointment, removal and suspension of governors is set out in the procedural guidance note: Appointments, Re-appointment, Resignation, Suspension and Removal of LGB Members.

Information on how to apply to become a foundation governor can be found on the NRCDES website. Candidates can self-nominate by completing the form available on the website and sending this through to the NRCDES. The NRCDES also regularly promotes the role of foundation governor through schools and parishes and the local parish priest, headteacher and chair of governors are often very active in encouraging candidates to put themselves forward.

The appointment process for foundation governors is managed by the NRCDES. The NRCDES appoints all foundation governors on behalf of the Bishop of Nottingham. Each local governing body will conduct a regular governor skills audit and an annual self-evaluation; the NRCDES will have regard to how prospective candidates match against the needs of the school and the local governing body before making an appointment. The LGB is responsible for filling any vacancies for elected parent governors. Steps should be taken to do so as soon as is practicable. However, if it is later in the academic year it may be prudent to wait until the start of the new academic year in order to reach parents of that autumn's intake. The local governing body must advertise the vacancy providing a statement on the process, steps to be taken by prospective candidates and a statement about the role.

The LGB should aim to fill parent governor vacancies with parents of present pupils but if this is not possible, it can approach past parents or even grandparents of present or former pupils and ask them to consider the role. Further information on eligibility and the procedure to be followed for the election of a parent governor can be found in the guidance note: Appointment of Parent Governors.

Elected parent governors may resign at any time by giving written notice to the clerk. However, foundation governors as Bishop's appointments should also inform the NRCDES that they no longer wish to serve. Ideally, this should be done in writing or via email in the term prior to their proposed final date in office. In addition, as their appointment is approved by the CMAT and the NRCDES if an Associate Member resigns ahead of his/her scheduled end date then the clerk should inform the CMAT and the NRCDES.

Local governors of any category may be removed from office if attendance is considered to be too low for them to be effective in the role, if the governor is failing to fulfil his/her commitments or is bringing the school, the CMAT or the Diocese of Nottingham into disrepute. Equally, governors may be removed if they carry out actions or display behaviours which are incompatible with their role of supporting the school and the CMAT or for a serious breach of the Code of Conduct. Removal from office for elected parent governors will be carried out by the LGB following approval by the CMAT Board and for Associate Members by the CMAT Board but as appointments of the Bishop, foundation governors can only be removed by the NRCDES acting on behalf of the Bishop of Nottingham.

7. Role of the Local Governor

Local governors in all schools offer their experience and expertise to strengthen the decision making process and to support the school's journey of continuous improvement. However, within a Catholic school, governors' first responsibility is to ensure that the school is conducted as a Catholic school, to uphold the views and directives of the Bishop of Nottingham and to support his vision for Catholic education in the diocese.

Being a local governor is a strategic and not an operational role. Governors are not part of the management and operation of the school. They will closely monitor and scrutinise standards in the school, the management and leadership of the school and ensure that acceptable progress is being made against the targets and priorities set down in the school development plan.

Governors will act as a 'critical friend' for the school. This means they will:

- Provide support and advice
- Act as a sounding board for ideas
- Provide feedback on proposals
- Provide help where needed

They will also provide challenge by:

- Asking constructive questions to ensure that decisions are made on the basis of sound information
- Exploring alternative proposals

An effective local governor will support the school and will want the school to succeed. They will have a relationship with the school that means they can also be honest where there are concerns. Local governors will have a direct link to the CMAT Board of Directors should concerns need to be raised about the school.

Being a local governor requires commitment. You will come to meetings prepared, having read and familiarised yourself with the agenda and accompanying papers as well as being prepared to ask relevant questions. You will be expected to visit the school regularly, to attend meetings, to monitor progress against the school development plan and to be available at important times in the school calendar such as school Masses/liturgical celebrations and parents' evenings for example. You will also be expected to undertake training from time to time; some compulsory, for instance in safeguarding and the PREVENT duty but also for your own development as a governor.

To be effective, a local governor must;

- Have an interest in education
- Be patient, tolerant and able to work with others in an open and democratic way
- Be able to challenge robustly whilst also being able to listen and respect the views of others
- Be willing to participate in regular training for the role

In addition, all those appointed as a local governor are expected to abide by the Governor Code of Conduct (provided on appointment and also available on Trust Governor), and fulfil their duties in line with the seven principles of public life (the Nolan principles).

All new governors will be expected to engage in an induction programme which will be coordinated by the chair of governors or other nominated existing governor. This will include:

- A tour of the school and a meeting with the headteacher and the chair of governors
- A thorough briefing on the school covering issues such as the Catholic Life of the school, standards, present performance, priorities for the school in the school development plan and the local context
- Access to key school policy documents and briefing on those
- Access to a more experienced governor to provide mentoring support
- Completion of a skills audit (carried out online via Trust Governor)
- An introductory session on safeguarding
- Access to latest CMAT reports on the school and minutes/notes from previous local governing body meetings

The Diocesan Induction Procedure for New Governors provides details of the induction process that must be followed for all new governor appointments.

More information on the role of the local governor can be found by referring to the information document Job Description for the Role of Local Governor within a CMAT located at Appendix C.

8. Meeting Organisation, Conduct at Meetings and the Role of Office Holders

The work of the local governing bodies and the CMAT as a whole is supported by the by the online platform 'Trust Governor'. Each local governor will have a login to Trust Governor (<https://www.the-trust-governor.co.uk>).

The platform maintains all local governor records, school and CMAT policy documents, key school information such as the school development plan as well as all meeting agendas, minutes and papers. It enables local governors to be provided with information in an entirely confidential and secure environment and for local governors to converse on issues remotely including voting on resolutions if required outside of scheduled meetings. Training is available for governors to get them started on Trust Governor but the clerks will also be established as 'super users' to support all governors to explore the full potential of the system. Under the Trust Governor system, governors are expected to maintain their own personal profile and to ensure that their training record is up to date. The system also supports all key documents such as the Code of Conduct for Governors, Governor Skills Audit and the Governance Self-Evaluation Tool.

All governance activity will be undertaken as far as possible through Trust Governor enabling governance to be virtually paperless. All meetings therefore will be run through Trust Governor. Local governors will come to meetings prepared to log on to Trust Governor either through their own device or on one provided by the school.

During meetings, local governors are expected to have regard to the Code of Conduct for Governors but to also adhere to the following principles:

- Support and be guided by the chair of the meeting
- Respect other people's opinions and ideas
- Actively participate in discussions
- Limit the length of individual contributions
- Ensure contributions are delivered in a positive and constructive manner, even when challenging or difficult issues are being discussed
- Respect confidentiality and respect decisions taken within meetings, acting corporately internally and externally once those decisions have been taken

Meetings of the local governing body will be quorate as long as a minimum of three governors are in attendance and there must be a majority of foundation governors present. However, voting on any issue will be undertaken using the facility in Trust Governor thereby ensuring that all governors are able to vote on key issues. The clerk will manage this process and will set the timeframes for votes.

All local governors are expected to attend all meetings. The clerk will log governor attendance on Trust Governor and this will be reviewed annually as part of the local governor appraisal and governance self-evaluation process. Virtual attendance at meetings can also be supported using Trust Governor but it is not expected that local governors will routinely request using this facility.

The local governing body will elect a chair and vice-chair for the new academic year at the last meeting of the year in the Pentecost Term together with link governors for safeguarding and SEND. The positions of chair and vice-chair must be filled by foundation governors. The chair and vice-chair may resign at any point by giving notice in writing to the clerk and informing the NRCDES and the CMAT chair.

At the start of each meeting, the clerk will require all local governors to declare if they have an interest in any of the agenda items.

All meetings will use the standard CMAT local governing body agenda but the clerk will co-ordinate each meeting agenda with input from the headteacher and chair of governors and ensure that the agenda meets the expectations of the CMAT as well as customising it to allow local school issues to be addressed. Each meeting will be supported by a standard headteacher information report (this will be produced by the Trust). The agenda and supporting papers will be posted on Trust Governor by the clerk seven days in advance of the meeting.

The clerk will also support the chair of governors and the local governors to ensure that the meeting is effective and will ensure that a clear note is taken of meetings with emphasis on demonstrating the challenge and support given by the governors to the school leadership and recording the impact of the local governing body. All minutes/notes will be available for scrutiny on Trust Governor within 48 hours of the meeting labelled 'draft' and ready for approval at the next meeting.

The chair of governors will ensure that all local governors are given opportunity to contribute to the meeting, ensure that no governor monopolises the discussions and that the key priorities for the school are given prominence and adequate discussion time.

The vice-chair of governors will lead meetings in the chair's absence. The vice-chair will be developing their knowledge and experience with the view to stepping into the chair's role in due course. The vice-chair also has a key role in the parental complaints procedure as the local governor that will normally chair the final stage panel.

Further information on the role of the chair is contained at Appendix A.

9. Meeting Programme

The local governing body will meet up to six times during the academic year following the schedule set out by the CMAT. Meeting dates for the future year are to be agreed annually at the end of the academic year and communicated by the clerk.

It is expected that the chair of governors will attend the chairs' symposia scheduled throughout the year. The symposia will consider and determine what the common content will be for local governing body meetings during that term. The vice-chair may also attend the symposia and the chair must ensure that their LGB is represented at each event by nominating other governors to attend if required.

There will also be opportunities for the chairs to engage in discussions on key issues such as CMAT development, central CMAT team services and to support the development of the chairs. All information exchanged at the symposia will be made available to all governors and will also form part of future local governing body agendas.

For further details about the chairs' symposia, please see Appendix D.

The clerks will attend regular briefing sessions which in a similar way will enable them to be fully briefed on CMAT developments and key issues and support their development.

The inter-relationship between the CMAT Board and the LGB is set out at Appendix E.

10. Visits to the School

As a local governor, you are encouraged to visit the school to fulfil your responsibilities and to gain a better understanding of how the school operates. You do not have an automatic right of entry to the school; all visits must be agreed in advance with the school's leadership and must have a clear focus. A visit may be undertaken to:

- Improve your knowledge of the school and the people that work in it
- Support the monitoring responsibilities of the local governing body
- Assist the local governing body in discussions and in making informed decisions

In practice, monitoring visits will be scheduled at the start of each term through discussions with the headteacher.

Local governors will produce a report of their visits and this will be shared with other local governors via Trust Governor. The CMAT will provide a standard visit report template and training on undertaking effective visits will also be provided.

Again, it is important to be clear that being a local governor is a strategic not an operational role. Therefore, the focus for your visits is to check on progress being made by the school, to verify the evidence that agreed actions have taken place and to see the evidence of the impact of those actions. In addition, local governors are not expected and nor should they be making judgements on the quality of teaching or the assessment of standards in pupil workbooks - that is a professional function to be carried out by the school's leadership team and the CMAT Director(s) of Performance and Standards.

As well as undertaking focussed visits, it is also important that governors are able to be 'visible' in school (please see Section 7).

Appendix B provides further information on the purpose of visits.

11. Training

To match the commitment shown by local governors in their roles, support is provided in the form of a bespoke training programme for governors within the diocesan CMATs.

The programme assumes that all new governors will receive a full induction from their chair of governors and headteacher about their school within one month of their appointment. There are then two sessions on 'effective governance' which governors must complete within their first year. These will help the governor to settle into the role, to understand what the essential elements of the role are and to be given the tools to be effective in the role. These sessions have been developed with and are delivered by National Leaders of Governance. They are available to all governors to attend, not just those new to the role and we encourage all governors to take advantage of them. They will be delivered in each CMAT area but there is no distinction in the courses and governors can attend any of the events regardless of which CMAT they are within.

As governors in Catholic schools, we also require governors to have attended a session on the role of governors in relation to Catholic Life in the school and to have accessed the online course on 'being a governor in a Catholic school'. The NRCDES will provide training on the role of governors in preparing for diocesan canonical inspection.

All governors must complete the statutory training on GDPR and the PREVENT duty which we have made available online. Other training is available covering issues such as safeguarding, SEND and exclusions.

The CMATs will deliver training to governors on areas such as data, standards and preparing for Ofsted.

For full details of the governor training programme, please visit:

<https://bookwhen.com/NRCDES>

Here, you will find details of all courses, dates, times and locations. You will also be able to book directly onto courses.

In addition to this, we are building a library of governor information and guidance documents. These documents will be available on Trust Governor and on the NRCDES website: <http://www.dioceseofnottingham.uk/education>

12. Relationships within the CMAT Governance Model

The local governing body is a key part of the CMAT governance structure and it is important that the local governing body has a close working relationship with the CMAT Board of Directors. Both have a different role to perform and it is crucial that you understand your remit. The CMAT Scheme of Delegation provides details of the functions that are delegated to the local governing body.

The CMAT Board consults on Trust wide matters and maintains links with the local governing bodies through:

- Chairs' symposia
- Clerks' briefings
- Standing items on the local governing body agendas
- Specific requests for views and feedback
- Attendance of CMAT Directors/CEO/Director(s) of Performance and Standards at local governing body meetings

Local governing bodies advise the CMAT Board on school level issues and CMAT development through:

- local governing body meeting notes/minutes
- specific responses to consultation requests
- input into chairs' symposia
- invitations to CMAT Directors/CEO and Director(s) of Performance and Standards to attend local governing body meetings

13. Role of Local Governing Bodies in Relation to Inspections

As with all schools, Catholic schools are subject to inspection by Ofsted. They are also subject to diocesan canonical inspection (DCI). The local governing body has an important role to play in both of these inspection regimes.

Ofsted

As part of an Ofsted inspection, the lead inspector should meet with those responsible for governance functions, this includes the chair of the local governing body. However, as schools are only given a day's notice of an inspection, it is likely that not all chairs will be available and so all governors must be prepared to meet with the Ofsted inspector if required. The CMATs will produce further guidance about how members of the Trust's executive team will be involved in inspections.

Governors will be knowledgeable about the school and be able, if required, to present to Ofsted inspectors a clear understanding of what the key priorities are for the school, what action has been taken and is being taken to address them, the impact of action taken to date and what specifically the local governing body has done to support the school to address the priorities. Typical questions that could be put to governors are:

- What are the school's priorities, strengths and weaknesses?
- What improvements have been made since the last inspection?
- How do you know that the school is improving?
- How is the pupil premium funding used? What impact does it have on pupil progress?
- How do you challenge the school leadership and what examples do you have?
- How do governors monitor the school development plan?
- How is the sports premium used? What impact does it have? Is it sustainable?
- How do you know that the school meets its safeguarding duties?
- How do the governors know that performance management of teachers is carried out robustly at the school?
- How effective is teaching and how do you know?

Diocesan Canonical Inspection

The local governing body has a pivotal role to play in the process of diocesan canonical inspection as one of its core roles is to monitor and develop the Catholic Life of the school and to ensure, on behalf of the Bishop of Nottingham, that the school is conducted as a Catholic school.

Diocesan Canonical Inspection looks at three separate areas:

- Catholic Life
- Religious Education
- Collective Worship

A range of resources to support the inspection process are available on the NRCDES website.

The inspection begins by looking at the school's main priorities identified at the previous inspection. Typical questions that could be asked of governors include:

- How do governors monitor the school's Catholic Life?
- When was the school's mission statement last reviewed?
- How high are standards in Religious Education and how do they compare with diocesan and/or national outcomes?
- Is teaching and learning in Religious Education as effective as teaching and learning in other core areas such as English and mathematics?
- Does the school comply with diocesan expectations regarding the quantity and quality of work that pupils produce in Religious Education?
- Does the school comply with the Bishops' Conference requirement that 10% of the working week is devoted to curriculum Religious Education (5% at Key Stage 5)?
- Does the school provide a daily Act of Collective Worship?
- Does the school ensure that pupils receive a range of liturgical experiences?
- Is the liturgical year celebrated in school?
- Do pupils take an active role in the planning, preparation and leadership of Collective Worship?
- How do governors monitor the school's provision for Collective Worship?

14. Review of the Handbook

The NRCDES will work with the CMATs and local governing bodies to keep the contents of this handbook under review and will ensure that, as a minimum, it is reviewed annually following consultation with the CMATs and the local governing bodies at the end of each academic year.

Revisions to the handbook will be published on the NRCDES website.

Appendix F: Prayers for Local Governing Body Meetings

These prayers may be used in addition to the school prayer, the Trust prayer or the diocesan prayer.

Father, encourage and sustain us in our endeavour to move forward in partnership for the good of the people you have placed in our care.

In your name, let us befriend, support and encourage each other in the challenge and demands of our shared responsibilities.

Help us to work together in a spirit of charity and cooperation accepting wholeheartedly that it is in collaboration that we best live out your example and best serve our school community.

We make our prayer through Christ our Lord, Amen.

Lord Jesus Christ, Son of the living God, teach us to walk in your way more trustfully, to accept your truth more faithfully and to share your life more lovingly; that by the power of the Holy Spirit we may come as one family to the kingdom of the Father, Amen.

With confidence and trust, we gather in the presence of God who loves us.

In the name of the Father who created us; in the name of the Son who calls us to the fullness of life and in the name of the Holy Spirit who guides us with wisdom. Amen.

Spirit of God,

Guide us with your wisdom as we seek to take responsibility for the education of the young people in our care. May each of us give generously our talents growing to know one another. Show us how to build a community sharing a deep concern and common purpose. May we find together the inspiration which is and always will be, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Father, we seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit in the business that is before us.

In planning for the future, give us vision.

In dealing with people, give us love.
